DAILY THOUGHT.

"To the right solution of every moral problem the two qualities, moral earnestness and mental clearness, are indispensable."

SENATOR HANNA'S SPEECH.

(Louisville Commercial.)

Senator Hanna's speech in favor of the shipping bill was one of the ablest that the senate has listened to in many years.

He talked like a man of business and like a statesman; there was no oratorical display, but when Tillman attempted to become insulting by asking about Morgan's steamship purchases, Senator Hanna stopped and insisted upon knowing why Tillman thought he knew anything about what Mr. Morgan was doing.

Tillman stammered and backed down. "I know nothing about the purchase of the Leyland line by J. P. Morgan and Co.," said Mr. Hanna, "any more than the senator does. That is simply the investment of American capital. Under the provisions of this bill not a single one of those vessels ever will come under an American register or an American flag."

Then Tillman tried a new tack and wanted to know why Emperor William "did not go to England and get his yacht built, instead of coming to this country." It was apparently Tillman's intention to draw Mr. Hanna into a discussion of irrelevant matters, but that showed ruin of affairs did not go into any technical discussion of the relative yacht building facilities of the two countries, but laughingly told the South Carolinian that the emperor wanted the best and he suggested that Mr. Tillman might not have heard of the American yacht victories over British built yachts.

But the strongest point in Senator Hanna's speech was his declaration that not only was labor the only item to be considered in protective legislation, but he added:

I stand by that proposition, but I go further. The ore in the ground is worth about 25 cents a ton. After it was touched by the hand of man, it was labor. Ninety-five per cent of the cost of a ship built in American shipyards or in any shipyard is purely labor. The construction of a ship in the United States as against that in other England, Germany or France, simply measures the difference of wages and the efficiency of American labor.

President McKinley never uttered a truer or a more pleasing phrase than this that the practical Ohio senator has framed. It is the keynote of Republicanism, and it marks the party's position with absolute precision. Protection to American industry means protection to American labor, and no man who is not absolutely loyal to the doctrine of protection has any right in the Republican party. A free trader may act with the Republicans on temporary or local issues but he cannot be a Republican.

The fourth conference of Republicans of the house of representatives will be held this evening at Washington to further consider the Cuban question. The present matter under discussion is whether or not we shall legislate to the probable detriment of some of our home industries for the sake of benefiting Cuba, or not the cuban republic do the best she can for herself.

It is claimed that if the United States will reduce the duty on sugar, it will enable the Cubans to bring their sugar here and sell it in competition with that of our home producers. It is claimed by the home producers, especially the beet sugar manufacturers, that this government has guaranteed them protection and must provide it. On the other hand, however, it is contended that the beet sugar industry has not made much progress since it was established ten years ago, and that even with all the sugar that could be imported from Cuba, the United States would still have to buy a million tons a year from other countries to supply the demand. Furthermore, that the beet sugar interests are not as important as the future of Cuba, and that this government is compelled to do something for the latter's relief. It is impossible to determine at present which will win, but there are staunch leaders on both sides, and each is claiming the victory. The question is a knotty one, any way it is regarded; in fact, one of the most perplexing that has ever confronted congress.

When Paducah enters the second class, there are a number of appointments to be made. These appointments are of the greatest importance to Paducah, and greatly concern the welfare of the people. The progress of Paducah may depend to a large degree on the choice of the mayor, when he makes his appointments. It is to be hoped that on the board of public works and fire and police commissioners, he will appoint good, progressive men. It is fully understood what obligations the holder of an important office such as that of mayor is under to the politicians, and that politicians are usually good for nothing but politics. For this reason it is urged that good men be given the preference. It is for the interest of the city that men of ability be placed in the respective positions that are to be filled. The welfare, prosperity and advancement of the city for the next three or four years may depend on it. It will take a great deal to counteract the influence of the cow-tamers who now adorn the councilmanic branch of government. The people ask only for the appointment of the best available men, no matter what their politics. With the right kind of men in charge of public improvements, Paducah will regain some of the ground she has lost in the past few years.

The visit of Prince Henry to America must have been a pleasant revelation to the distinguished visitor, for few foreigners who have not been here have any adequate idea of what America really is. Then, he was doubtless pleased with the kind and number of people he met. He certainly could have been treated no better anywhere. The people of this country were glad to welcome him. He represented one of the greatest nations of the world, and it was only fitting that he should be treated as his rank required. Today he sailed for home. His trip was almost a continuous ovation, and he took back with him many costly presents, as well as many that are valuable for other reasons. During his stay Prince Henry conducted himself with dignity but affability, made friends everywhere. We trust the impression America made on him is as pleasant as the one he made on America.

The United States has delivered to Turkey another note touching on the capture of Miss Ellen Stone, the missionary. It is asserted that the prisoners were captured, the ransom paid and the prisoners released, in Turkey, and intimates that reparation must be made. Evidently we will soon have another bill against Turkey to collect.

The socialist profess to be very much disgusted with Americans for their courteous treatment of Prince Henry. But Americans, as a rule, are equally as disgusted with the socialists for various other reasons.

A Russian general who was responsible for the massacre of 5,000 Chinese has just been dismissed from the Russian army. It is presumed he should have made it 10,000.

It is to be hoped that when Mayor Yeiser appoints his aldermen he will make a better selection than the people did last November in choosing a city council.

POWDER EXPLOSION.

TWO MEN KILLED AND FOUR INJURED NEAR KEO.

KUK, IOWA.

Kookuk, Ia., March 11.—The E. I. duPont de Nemours and Co's powder plant, five miles west of this city, was seriously damaged by an explosion today. Two men were killed outright, a third will die and three others are seriously injured. None in the other buildings at work was injured. The damage to the mill will reach about $75,000. The mill where the explosion occurred was totally demolished. It was a stone structure with a wooden roof.

KNIGHT OF PYTHIAS DROWNED.

Paducah lodge, Knights of Pythias, has received a letter from Mr. G. William Fox of Temple lodge, Knights of Pythias, Cincinnati, stating that a member of that lodge, Mr. William Fletcher, fell overboard from the Bonanza at Huntington, W. Va., on March 6th, and was drowned. Local knights are asked to do all in their power to recover the body and see that the remains are held should they be found.

TOOK LAUDANUM.

YOUNG MAN OF FULTON MAKES A HASTY ATTEMPT TO DIE.

Fulton, Ky., March 11.—John H. Murphy, an eighteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Murphy, who is quite well known in and around Fulton, attempted to commit suicide Sunday morning by taking a large dose of laudanum. He took about a half ounce of the drug about 9:30 o'clock and was in a critical condition when Dr. Sheldon Cohn and Nat Morris arrived at his bedside. They soon began operation of pumps and in ten minutes used the drug from his stomach and revived him. He is a boy of considerable vitality and is able to be up and out on the streets today. Mr. Murphy did not give any other reason for attempting to take his life than that he was in an angry mood and in a frenzy took the drug. Mr. Murphy is a young man who has many friends in the city. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and has been in the employ of the Illinois Central railroad.

Metropolis.

—The two story brick building to be erected at Third and Court by Mr. Morris Friedman will be built by Byrd and Co., to whom the contract has been let.

—Argument on the motion for a new trial in the case of James Spriggs, colored, given 21 years for the murder of his sweetheart, is set for April 16 in the court of appeals.

—Two boys found in the railroad yards said their father was W. B. Carr, of Central City, and that he left them and they came here to find him. They were given accommodations at the city hall and then allowed to go.

—Local stationary engineers have written to Frankfort urging the legislature to act on the bill requiring a state board before which engineers have to pass an examination before being granted a license.

—The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the pastor's study. Topic, Italy. It is very important that all the members should be present, as there is much business that must be attended to at once.

—Some one took the bicycle of Joe Johnson, a Western Union telegraph messenger boy, away from the office yesterday and no trace of the machine has been since that time. He at first thought some boys had taken it as a joke, but as it has not been returned he is confident it was stolen.

—For four seasons the feminine beauty contingent of "The Telephone Girl," which comes to The Kentucky tonight, made a notable reputation all through the country. This season, it is said, the reputation is fully sustained, the stage divinites figuring in the exclusively female chorus being beyond compare. The production is completely the same as was seen for three hundred nights at the New York Casino.

—Signor Giuseppe Creatore, director of the Royal Italian band, which comes to The Kentucky Saturday, matinee and night, is a young man, being but 29 years old, yet he has been a musician of ability for a number of years. He commenced playing the trombone at the age of nine years, and after graduating from one of the leading musical colleges of Italy, became at a very young age, first trombone player in one of the leading bands of that country.

—Augustus Thomas play "Arizona," so presented at the Kentucky Friday night is said to be a conspicuous novelty in the way of stage literature, by reason of the unfamiliar field of action and the characters entirely strange to most theatre-goers. Thomas has taken the ranch people of the Southwest, Uncle Sam's cavalrymen, the neighboring and erratic Mexican and the bland, silent footed Chinese servant, for the folks who wind the skein of as pretty and dainty a romance as has ever been written by an American author. In selecting the artists who are to impersonate these peculiar characters, Mr. Thomas has chosen individuals especially adapted for the portrayal of the roles which they are to enact.

REVIVAL SERVICE
AT BROADWAY
METHODIST CHURCH
There will be service at the Broadway Methodist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. G. W. Briggs will preach on "The Religious Experience; what is it and how it begins." The singing will be made an especial feature. There will be a duet by Messrs. A. W. Barkley and John U. Robinson this evening.

Marshal Crow up to press time had been able to learn nothing of their whereabouts. May is well known here, having formerly resided here.

Mr. May arrived in the city on the Cowling this afternoon and appeared at police station to inquire into the success of the local police. He said that all he wanted was his child and that he would get it if there was any possible way. It is alleged the woman left with a man named Smith.

MASONIC TRIBUTE.

To the W. M. Warless and Members of Plain City Lodge, No. 419, A. F. and A. M.

Retireth:
To the undersigned committee has been assigned the melancholy duty of voicing the sentiment of this lodge upon the death of our late lamented and loved brother, Reuben Loeb, who departed this life on the 7th day of March, 1902.

Brother Loeb had lived too long among us to need the endorsement of a eulogy from this committee, having spent the greater portion of his life in this community. He was a faithful husband, father and friend and enjoyed to the fullest extent the confidence and respect of all who knew him.

Impressed with admiration for his business ability, honesty and wisdom, his purity of life and upright character, we lament in his death the inevitable termination of a career full of years and crowned with success; and recognize in it a loss to all who value integrity, devotion to principle and kindness of heart.

It is fitting that his clay rest in the bosom of the soil on which he trod and labored so long and let us believe that he who in his prodigality wastes not the rain drop, the blade of grass, or the evening's sighing zephyr, but makes them all carry out his eternal plan, has given immortality to the mortal and gathered to himself the generous spirit of our brother.

He has gone forever from among us. His pleasant smile we shall see no more nor will we shall be called from labor on earth to the refreshments of that glorious and celestial lodge above where the Supreme Grand Master of the Universe presides.

We recommend that this report be spread upon the minutes, published in the city papers and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased. Fraternally,

BRINTON R. DAVIS,
HERMAN WALLERSTEIN,
JAMES H. ASHCRAFT.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Daugherty and daughter, Mrs. Robert Steyer, of Louisville, have returned from Fulton and are again visiting here.

THE SICK.

Mr. R. C. Uterback's condition today is about the same.

Supt. H. U. Wallace is improving and this morning was much better.

Captain S. J. Schrodes continues about the same, but was a little better last night.

The condition of Mr. Guy Randall is no better today. His many friends will regret to learn of the news.

DEEDS.

Glip Husbands deeds to Lydia H. Wagner for $255 property on Clements street in the south end of the city.

J. C. Allen deeds to Nannie Hunt for $1,800 property in the county.

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Mrs. Reuben Loeb and Children.

St. Rule's Tower. In the town of St. Andrew's, is an evidence of the link which binds St. Andrew, whose feast all good Scotchmen are keeping to-day, to the country of whom he is the patron saint. The legend runs that a monk called Regulus, or Ruls, brought the bones of St. Andrew from Constantinople to Scotland, and buried them near the seacoast, on the spot round which the present town of St. Andrew's afterwards grew. Whether the story is true or not, there seems to be no other way to explain the connection of this particular saint with Scotland; for he seems to have passed the whole of his life up to the moment of his martyrdom in the East. James II. certainly associated him with the country across the Tweed, for it was he who founded the Order of St. Andrew in 1687, to be conferred on the king and sixteen knights.—London Chronicle.
